

A little something

Description

While the very newest update of MyBudget was shipped to our customers yesterday, we want to go further and want to make them a little present.

MyPasswords is a nice and small application that will be shipped out to all our customers and to the betatesters. It is a password manager and stores all your login data and passwords you have. A master-username and master-password save your data you don't have to remind then anymore.

Best regards
